

SAYS MAIL SERVICE CITY TO THE WEST UNSATISFACTORY

Dominion Postoffice Department to be Reminded of Fact by Fisher.

LETTER GOES 1,000 MILE
TRIP REACH FORT GEORGE

No Provision Made to Have Bags Taken from Station to Town.

The mail service from Edmonton west to points on the Grand Trunk Pacific, particularly Prince George, Fort George and South Fort George, is unsatisfactory, according to Secretary P. T. Fisher of the bureau of trade, and that body is seeking to have some improved by the dominion post office department.

At present although passengers are running all the way to Prince George, a letter addressed simply to Fort George or South Fort George will go to either of those post offices via Calgary and Ashtcroft, a trip of nearly 1,600 miles and requiring eight days. If it were sent direct on the G. T. P. a letter mailed here in the evening would reach any of the three Georges in about 36 hours.

There is no post office at Prince George, but there is one at each of the other two towns, each about two miles from the G. T. P. station. No provisions have yet been made to have the mail carried from the station to either of the two post offices, even if mail service were given right into Prince George.

The Edmonton board of trade sent a wire to the post office department at Ottawa the other night, but have as yet received no reply. It was learned that the superintendent here had already made representations to Ottawa, but no action had been taken. In the meantime the situation is providing a bonanza for the express companies, who charge 25 cents to carry a letter to Prince George, Fort George or South Fort George. Mr. Fisher is of the opinion that the Ottawa authorities do not realize the amount of business which would be done between here and Fort George were a good service given.

Must Quit Parliament.

Montreal, April 10.—The election of Mederic Martin, M.P., as mayor of Montreal, will probably mean that he will have to resign his seat in the house of commons at Ottawa unless he wants to lay himself open to a charge of disqualification as chief magistrate of this city. The charter of the city specifies that members of the board of control, of which the mayor is an ex-officio member, must not hold any public office.

EMPIRE CAPTIVATES
CITY THEATER GOERS

Martin Harvey, one of the leaders of the dramatic profession, delighted a large audience at the Empire theater last evening as Lieutenant Hershey, "the rat," in "The Breeds of the Treshams."

The story is one of the parliamentary wars in British, the scenes being laid in Faversham castle in 1545. Lieutenant Hershey is a soldier of fortune, and a remarkable person, feared by all, and honored by the army in which "the rats" father is fighting and the one Hershey himself is fighting against.

Margaret Reid is Hershey's arm, and shortly after the play opens Hershey is heard relating the story to his half brother, Francis Tresham. The latter is in love with another Margaret who makes Hershey think of the first one. The second is a daughter of Viscount Dursington, who, with his son, Clement Hungerford, is opposed to the marriage of Francis and Margaret because of the blood relationship of the former to Hershey.

The plot shows how Hershey, down in the lowest dregs of the human society of the times, underwent torture, and faced death to see the marriage, which he had set his heart upon, through.

Martin Harvey portrays to perfection the part of Lieutenant Hershey, of "the rat." The manner in which he assumes the various expressions and emotions is marvelous. The play, although primarily an emotional one, has bits of humor, but any role seems to fit Mr. Harvey as if he were specializing in each. There were no two opinions held by those who attended last night's performance—in the mind of one and all Martin Harvey was truly a most wonderful exponent of the histrionic profession, perhaps the finest finished that ever played in the city.

So completely did Mr. Harvey hold the attention of the audience and dominate the proceedings that the other parts seemed even less than yesterday. The manner of Miss M. Silva, as Batty, did not carry off her part as well as the right hand assistant of Martin Harvey might be expected, but this was no doubt due to the fact that she was playing the part of a boy, and the other plays in which the excellent company appears here today and tomorrow will give her the opportunity which she did not have in "The Breeds of the Treshams."

Charles J. Cameron as Viscount Dursington and Hon. Clement Hungerford, his son and the villain, were both excellent. Hugh Carson played the part of Sir Henry Curwen, one of Viscount Dursington's high counselors, and that of Francis Tresham. Miss Maude Rivers is lovely as Hon. Margaret Hungerford, sister of Clement Hungerford and sweetheart of Batty.

Judging by the attendance at last night's performance it is rather a pity that Mr. Harvey's present stay in Edmonton could not be prolonged. However, he will appear again today in "The Only Way," both matinee and evening, on Saturday afternoon in "A Cigarette Maker's Romance," and Saturday evening again in "The Breeds of the Treshams."

PANTAGES FEATURE SKETCH BUILT FROM VICE COMMISSION

Word for word practically verbatim from the unbelievable facts that were related to the Illinois vice commission was the play "The Truth" built, built that the world might know the story of wrong that need righting, the story of fallen humanity told in the graphic language which appealed to the senses, and the tales were recited. With all the human interest of the famous report the sketch comes as a headliner to Pantages next week where it will be presented by a cast of 15 people headed by Harold Holland who as an actor has won an enviable reputation. The story unfolded in the pieces is indeed an unusual one, a story of the greatest horrors which the world has known, a glimpse through the warp and woof of life that tells in tense emotional phrases the terrible, the horrible, the denizens of that great hall of woe. At the present time when there is such an agitation against the vice traffic, the sketch has more than a passing interest for it lays bare for the first time the sordid appeal of the people held under by present day conditions. It depicts a phase of life never before shown upon the stage, consciously does away the fundamental principles of life and lighting the dark channels of the labyrinth which these conditions have brought about. The story is told in two scenes with a fitting prologue and will be appropriately mounted, an exact replica of the court scene in Chicago where the commission sat, being used.

DRAMA OF HUMAN APPEAL SECURED BY THE EMPRESS

A drama of human appeal featuring Francis X. Bushman and preaching a sermon fraught with something to seriously think about is "The Hour and The Man" that will be exhibited on the Empress Theater screen for today and tomorrow.

We sin, and judge others. We transgress, and appoint ourselves to punish the transgressor. We obey a distorted impulse, commit that which it recommends and contemplate the act with remorse. We ask Him to forgive our sins, and do not heed the prayers of their sinners. We make laws forbidding men to murder, and we murder those who disobey the law. The whole thing is just a little silly, isn't it? But over the frail structure of man's justice is the invisible and invincible Guiding Hand.

Two brothers loved her—one sincerely, he was a good man; the other loved with a love that was just—he was not a good man. She, not knowing, not seeing, encouraged the latter. After their marriage, when the child came crying, she forgot the tender tie that bound her to the manblackguard, and thought only of the little innocent and the forgotten duty she owed it. Till finally she asked him to right the wrong, he brought her into poverty. Yes, he listened to the petty pleas of his wife, but this masculinity could not hear. Then it was that the woman forgot that she was a mother, and she remembered only that she was a mother; her soul wandered back to primitive ages, her heart was controlled by primal forces, and her nature became animal. The animal mother kills to protect her young, and so this mother was about to kill the man; but he died accidentally. And then our life accused her. The judges appointed a lawyer to defend her, and the battle for a human soul was fought. In ringing terms the prosecution demanded her life as forfeit for the life she was supposed to have taken, and the jury listened to the logic of the law. The attorney for the defence spoke of the little life that had created the sin—if, however, a woman was guilty—and the jury listened to a plea of humanity and maternity, and heard the silent voice of right.

In summing up, the woman's lawyer consulted his watch. There in the watch was a portrait of the father of her child and the creation of his misery, the man she had loved and for whom she had suffered and sorrowed, the man who was but a man. The woman glanced at it—and with the hopeless air of an anguished soul she faintly pleaded for mercy. When the regaining consciousness and learned that the jury had decided not to murder two lives to vindicate a law, she went to the advocate of her sorrowful justice, and confessed she had learned it was his brother whom she was accused of killing, his brother who had lived a life of disgrace and with an assumed name. She knew from the picture in the watch marked "brother."

The attorney is now the judge—the thirteenth jury. But in her second defense she had another and more eloquent attorney, the new-born train of innocence. The babe offered its mute evidence and its silent plea, and obtained a second acquittal.

The masterful brother took the mother of his brother's child into his arms, and the final pardon was granted. And such the writer thinks is the Great Father's justice.

The many remarkable scenes are excellently carried out, and Mr. Bushman rises to big demands made upon him. The play is one of the strongest being shown in pictures.

ALEXANDER DUMAS'
"CAMILLE" IS LYCEUM
OFFERING NEXT WEEK

"Camille," the masterpiece of Alexander Dumas fils, comes to the Lyceum theater next week, with the numerous members of the excellent Lyceum stock company in the various roles.

The story of "Camille" is familiar to all theatergoers on both sides of the Atlantic. It has been published as a story in various forms from the five-cent booklet of cheap make to the "luxury" volume. The two chief characters of Camille and Armand Duval are probably as well known as any two characters in modern fiction.

The management of the Lyceum has gone to considerable extra trouble to present "Camille" as an up-to-date play, rather than a play that has been played over 10,000 times in over 20 years. To this end Stage Director Cornell has taken the three best known versions of "Camille," namely those used by Madame Sarah Bernhardt, Madame Hoffman, the German actress, and Olga Netherland, and has chosen the best, the most modern play that will appeal to all classes of theatergoers, regardless of where they live.

A GRACEFUL COAT OF MOIRE SILK

Draped coats make a rather important feature of spring styles for afternoon and evening. This one is graceful, taking beautiful lines and folds while, at the same time, it is absolutely modern.

The sleeves extend to the neck edge in one with the yoke in the back, a novel treatment that is smart in the extreme.

As shown here, black moire silk is lined with brightly colored satin but there are numerous beautiful fabrics adapted to such a wrap.

Undoubtedly modern. Both plain and brocade, will be fashionable but so also will velvet-finished fabrics and silk drapery.

It is fascinating made in this way while pear drapery makes extremely handsome wraps with collar and cuffs of brocade silk or some of contrasting material.

For the spring season, light soft velvet finished are to be exceedingly smart.

As they are draped beautifully, they are ideal for wraps.

For the medium size, the wrap will require 5 yds. of material 27, 31 1/2 yds. 35, 34 1/2 yds. 40, 32 yds. 44, 34 yds. 46, 36 yds. 48, 38 yds. 50, 40 yds. 52, 42 yds. 54, 44 yds. 56, 46 yds. 58, 48 yds. 60, 50 yds. 62, 52 yds. 64, 54 yds. 66, 56 yds. 68, 58 yds. 70, 60 yds. 72, 62 yds. 74, 64 yds. 76, 66 yds. 78, 68 yds. 80, 70 yds. 82, 72 yds. 84, 74 yds. 86, 76 yds. 88, 78 yds. 90, 80 yds. 92, 82 yds. 94, 84 yds. 96, 86 yds. 98, 88 yds. 100.

"LOCAL COLOR" DANDY FEATURE AT DREAMLAND THEATER

A fine program is being shown at the Dreamland today and tomorrow. "Local Color" a two-part vignette special is the headliner. A picture that gives Ned Finley, leading man and producer, an excellent chance to portray one of his characters—an actor among the rough mountain folk of North Carolina to get local color for a Broadway show. He happens on a village where there is a feud and falls into the hands of one of the leading families. Ann, daughter of the cabin, falls in love with him. Catherine Carr, who wrote the script, has woven her plot skillfully, bringing another layer to Ann from the opposite of the feud and using the mountaineers' hatred of the revenue man as the weapon used by this jealous youth to bring about a tragic ending after which the story finds that he has fallen in love with Ann, who dies in his arms, self-sacrificed to save him from the gun of his rival. It will be liked; there is good acting, interesting local color and it is well acted.

"SERGEANT BAGBY"
IRVIN COBB STORY
AN ORPHEUM FEATURE

Irvin Cobb's "Sergeant Bagby" is a big act in every sense of the word. It is a splendid dramatization of Irvin Cobb's famous story which recently appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. It tells a story of three civil war veterans, two confederate and one U.S.A., who meet in New Orleans by accident on the occasion of a confederate reunion. How the three almost engage in another battle, finally putting aside their animosities to help a young couple who are running away from the girl's grumpy old stepfather, and how they finally outwit him forms only part of an interesting and thrilling dramatic story. The piece has been put into dramatic form by Mr. Cobb and Mr. Eugene Bulger, the famous writer on the New York stage. Every detail of the production has been adequately provided and one of the most elaborate stage settings ever seen in vaudeville will greet the spectator when the curtain rises. A cast of seven prominent players appear in the sketch, which is replete with Mr. Cobb's irreverent humor.

"Sergeant" Bagby comes to the Empire theater the first half of next week as one of the features of the Orpheum vaudeville bill.

and mourns his death bitterly. Then comes the end in the show the body of Jack Graham. After days of weakness, he regains sufficient strength to follow the footprints which lead him to Nina cave in the rocks. She fears him and it is long before she consents to make friends. There is a volcanic eruption, one night, fire flames toward the sky, lava pours down the side of the mountain, and Nina flees to Jack for protection. He saves her from the lava and expresses warm gratitude. Hope of ever being rescued from the island has left Jack and his affection for Nina prompts him to tell her they must marry. He makes her repeat the marriage ceremony after him. In the months that follow thoughts of his American wife are less frequent. Then, one day, a boat puts in to shore. It is an American, Jack recognizes his wife and forgets the existence of Nina and her baby in the happens with the volcanic crisis.

The last is a deeply dramatic scene; one that cannot fail to move the least susceptible of picture patrons, and that will be sure to call forth praise for its masterly conception and splendid execution.

Y.M.C.A. ATHLETES PREPARE FOR BUSY SEASON OF HANDICAP RACES

Four Handicap Events Will Be Run Monday Night at South Side Athletic Grounds Junior Boys Will Be Encouraged to Participate in Shorter Runs.

The athletic season is with us again, but this year the local athletes are making another stride towards the goal which they have set for themselves at the top of the athletic ladder. Every week during the coming season it is the purpose of the Y.M.C.A. athletes to conduct closed handicap races in order that the new men may have a chance and that the stars will be called upon to extend themselves to pull out a win. On Monday night at 7:30 on the south side track the first of these handicaps will be held, and all members of either the junior or senior departments of the association who have any pretensions as athletes, or who only run for the exercise or love of the game, are asked to be on hand at 7 o'clock sharp in order that the handicaps may be set and the first event started at 7:30. There will be four events on the program, and the following have entered to date:

100 Yards—S. J. Pearce, R. S. Shepard, T. Buckham, R. Halliburton, I. Blades and J. Jones.

440 Yards—Sheppard, Pearce, Buckham and Blades.

One Mile—Deaneau, Hall, Dunham, Stewart, Blythe, Talbot, Sharpe, McCoy, Armstrong, East.

Broad Jump—Halliburton, Pearce, Buckham, Sheppard and Blades.

A first place will count five points, a second three and a third one. Ribbons will be awarded, and the athlete with the most points at the end of the season will be the possessor of a handsome medal, the second and third also receiving medals.

The suspension of the Toronto West End Y. M. C. A. basketballers, who competed against the Burroughes team of Detroit, was raised at last night's meeting of the Board of governors of the Ontario Amateur Athletic Union.

President R. J. Fleming, of the Toronto Lacrosse club, is just as enthusiastic over the prospects of the "Big Six" as he ever was. He is not opposed to the admission of new clubs, but will stick fast to the four teams who originally started the new league.

Whether the "Big Four" will become a "Big Six" will hardly be decided after President Quinn returns from England. Ottawa and Quebec are anxious to secure a franchise, and in his opinion it would improve the game.

Brantford should have a candidate for the O. A. L. A. council. With their team going to the coast and winning the senior championship last year they should have a representative.

Westminster are apparently running the league at the coast. They will get 50 per cent of every gate, and are allowed to play several of their homes games in Vancouver and Victoria.

Now that Mr. Jones has decided to drop out of the game, there is no one at the coast who will put up the price for players, and it should be easy to secure the services of the western cracker.

Victoria have been refused a franchise, and the Vancouver ex-amateurs and Westminster will be the only teams in the league paying the players on the co-operative system, and giving Westminster 60 per cent of every game.

Joe Lally figures that he will have 400 school teams organized in the west before he reaches North Bay. In Winnipeg he distributed over a thousand boy's sticks, which show how the game is being received.

Lacrosse on ice was tried in Toronto and created no sensation. It is another of those freak games that will die a natural death. Had it gone right, a number of pro. lacrosse players would have been given a job for the winter.

Vancouver's Mann cup holders are working hard in preparation for the approaching season's championship series. Officials report big turnouts at every workout.

The following is a complete list of nominations received up to this date for the various offices of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse association.

President—James H. Stevenson, Toronto.

First Vice-President—J. Ed. Hinds, Orillia; P. C. Waghorne, Toronto.

Second Vice-President—W. H. Merklinger, Hanover; T. L. W. Tugart, Toronto.

Secretary—Treasurer—Frank Doyle, Toronto.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

PAT CONNOLLY IS AN EASY WINNER OVER TWO MEN

British Champion Threw Kid Sandow in 17 Minutes and Gertain in 3 1/2 Minutes—Two Good Preliminary Were Stages—"Doc" Roller Likely to Wrestle Connolly Here.

It took Pat Connolly just 20 minutes and a half to win his bouts against Kid Sandow and Gertain last night in the Edouard theatre. Pat has been touted as the heavyweight champion of Great Britain and the colonies, and from his showing last night no one would be apt to doubt his claim.

Connolly is undoubtedly the best heavyweight wrestler seen in western Canada, and if as expected, he is matched with Doc Roller of Seattle here in a few weeks, the match should draw a monster crowd and attract great attention.

Connolly tackled Kid Sandow first last night, and gobbled his fall in 17 minutes, during which time some very clever and strenuous wrestling was indulged in. Sandow proved to be a more worthy opponent for Connolly than the fans expected, being strong of body, alert, and fairly clever, and won applause many times by breaking or wringing out of Connolly's grasp. Connolly of course showed his class and displayed much cleverness. He is a real top-notch and made a hit with the fans last night. Hereafter he will be a big drawing card in Edmonton. Gertain, the second opponent of Connolly, wasn't well, but is a wrestler of very limited experience, and the champion toyed with the big fellow for a space of three and a half minutes and gained his fall.

Two good preliminaries were staged before the main event. Maddison took the first of those by taking two falls from his opponent in five and seven minutes. Maddison is clever and was never in difficulty.

The second preliminary was between Curley Blue and Pat Hogan of Fort Lenoir. This was a curious affair, inasmuch as Hogan's title is that of a champion of the world, and he is supposed to be a very strong wrestler.

Curley Blue was the stronger of the pair and the cleverest. He did not appear to be trying very hard to get his man. Hogan also was clever. Quick as a flash and showed science, but was never the aggressor. Curley Blue challenges any wrestler in Canada at 145 pounds, and at that he would make the best of them travel the limit.

It is to be hoped the promoters are able to secure Doc Roller to appear in Edmonton against Connolly, as the match would be worth going to see.

One hundred and fourteen five-men teams a hundred and hundred and four two-men teams and 412 individuals will bowl for 40 days. The participants will include representatives from cities throughout the coast, the west and Canada.

Orilla players were handed gold lockets for being champions, while Kingston Frontenacs were given watches, fobs and diamond rings, and they failed to win anything but a reputation for good sportsmanship.

Covey will concede White half 15. A very fast match is looked for by the tennis enthusiasts who will be on hand to witness the match. White defeated Covey three sets to two in the first match, but Covey thinks he can turn the tables this time.

PRES. WILSON TO THROW FIRST BALL AMERICAN LEAGUE

Washington, April 10.—President Wilson promised today to toss the first ball thrown on the American league park here this year when the Washington team plays its first game on the home grounds with the Boston Americans Thursday, April 21.

President Minor of the Washington club called at the White House today. He told Mr. Wilson that the first ball would be received on the throw by Ray Collins, who would oppose Walter Johnson in the box. Incidentally Mr. Minor gave the president a baseball No. 1 for the season.

He Doesn't Want Horse Racing. Norfolk, Va., April 10.—B. Gray Turnstall, city treasurer of Norfolk, today sent this telegram to President Wilson:

"His excellency, the Pres.—Should the governor of Virginia be unable with the state militia to break up racing in Norfolk county, will you not have all the 12-inch guns at Fort Monroe deliver a broadside against the race track?"

To make it sure you might send down the Atlantic squadron.

Please notify me before the bombardment begins.

Hopefully yours, in democracy. (Signed) B. Gray Turnstall.

Presentation By The EDMONTON CAPITAL

Willis J. Abbot, the versatile writer on International subjects and author of many books of history and travel, spent months in Panama and the Canal Zone in the preparation of this volume. He collected at first hands the complete history of the great Canal, with a wealth of historical data concerning Panama which has never before been written. The result is a human interest story of this beautiful land and its people from the early days when Columbus tried to find a natural waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, down to the present time.

Special staff photographers made the hundreds of beautiful views which illustrate practically every page of this exhaustive book.

The well-known artist, E. J. Read, made the sixteen sumptuous water-color studies which are reproduced by the latest color processes on specially made paper.

The Panama Canal, the greatest engineering achievement of the world's history, cost more than

SWIMMING IS MOST POPULAR EXERCISE

Great Poets of Early Days Sang Praises of Those Proficient.

MADE COMPULSORY BYLAW

Spartans Included Accomplishment in Military Training Program.
By James Brackett, Instructor Y.M.C.A.
Swimming is the most popular of all physical exercises. As a sport it has its followers in every country, and that skill in the exercise is of highest importance need not be dwelt upon seeing that ability to swim may enable a man to save his life or the lives of others.

The praises of swimmers were sounded by the great poets in the early days of the world's history and in many places in their writings are to be found references to the swimmers. Somewhat tale of the religious bathing festivals common in India especially mentioning the Sandhya, which the Brahmins practice alone to the gods in general, and as the ancient priests of Egypt in like manner purified themselves by bathing, and plunging into the sacred waters of the Nile, he remarks that the ceremony was probably derived from the early followers of Brahma.

The Egyptians as recorded in the Book of Exodus were in the habit of bathing in the Nile and that it was common among even the women of the period is evidenced by the fact that the daughters of Pharaoh habitually included in the invigorating exercises. Although no specific mention of the art is made in the Bible, it is quoted, it can be conclusively proved from other sources that it has long been known and understood as a method of transport in the crocodiles, and also as an effective means of escape from threatened dangers by bathing in streams, darts back to the remotest times.

Proofs of Prowess
The monuments of the ancients are the best possible proofs of their prowess. In the British Museum there are some interesting bas-reliefs depicting fugitives swimming for refuge to a crocodile in the Nile. One of these is a bas-relief of Assur Nadr Pal, king of Assyria, and his army.

Willow River will be the real starting point for the line to the north which will make it an important center. The Willow River Lumber camp is the head of which are several big Michigan lumbermen, in building a large sawmill at Willow River, which is expected to be in operation by May 15. It is also stated that many stockmen and others are waiting for the lumber to be saved by the use of the Willow River. The lumber is being turned over at large profits, one which cost $250 having just been sold for $400.

FIRST THROUGH G.T.P. TRAIN REACHES PRINCE RUPERT FROM WINNIPEG
Prince Rupert, April 10.—Amidst a toasting of brandy and whiskey and a fusillade of bullets, the first through train from Winnipeg on the G. T. P. reached here at 11:15 o'clock yesterday. It had aboard General Manager Morley Donaldson and a large party of G. T. P. officials.

Superb weather brought out the total population along the water front and led by old timers the visitors were greeted with a chorus, "We're here, because we're here."

Later Mr. Donaldson, was presented with an address and the party toured the city in automobiles. There was no official welcome as the driving of the golden spike will take place until after the road is ballasted.

Tremblay's Title
A visit to a Turkish bath to take off an extra pound in weight, had a lot to do with Eugene Tremblay's defeat at Bohmer Park on Wednesday night. The lightweight champion found he weighed 136 pounds in the afternoon previous to the bout with Paradis. He worried over this, and finally went to the steaming plant to reduce. He was considerably weakened in the process. That he still retains his title and the Police Belt is owed to the fact that Paradis had not trained so hard and was consequently three pounds overweight, thus making his victory count for nothing.

Blaze at Civic Block
One of the awnings on the third floor of the civic block caught fire yesterday afternoon about 3:45 but was quickly extinguished with the aid of the chemical. It is thought that someone threw a lighted match or cigar end out of the upper windows and ignited the awning. Very slight damage was done.

Verdict of Accidental Death
A coroner's inquest was held last night to inquire into the death of little five-year old William Murray Robertson, the child who was crushed to death on Wednesday when he was hit by a wagon on which a horse was being moved passed over his chest. A verdict of accidental death was returned by the jury.

Rebecca Lodge Meets
The practice of Jewel Rebecca Lodge No. 25 will be held in the Norwood Catholic hall, Newwood, Wednesday at Saturday afternoon at 2:45.

GUARANTEED RELIEF FROM ALL BOWEL ILLS

If your bowels are out of order, instead of using some harsh salt or other physic, take a ReXall Orderly tonight, and tomorrow you will feel great. These are good and act so easily that there isn't a particle of gripping or purging, nor life excessive looseness that follows the taking of salts and most pills. They soothe and strengthen the bowels, promptly relieving the constipation, making it unlikely to occur again.

We don't believe there is any other bowel remedy anywhere near as good, and at the same time so easy and pleasant to take as ReXall Orderlies. We know you will agree with us and believe you will thank us for telling you about them. If they don't satisfy you in every way, come back and tell us and we will give back your money without a word or question. You have no reason to hesitate when we give you the opportunity as we hereby do, to try them at our risk. In vest pocket tin boxes: 10c, 25c, 50c.

You can buy ReXall Orderlies only at The ReXall Store and in this town only of us. A. Archibald, druggist, 213 Jasper E.

no other means afforded of crossing rivers when pursuing or retreating from an enemy. It was made part of military training and highly esteemed as an accomplishment.

That bathing in open water was considered beneficial to the health is questionable. In the ninth book of the Aeneid, Numa, when taming the Tiberian says:

Strong from the cradle, of a sturdy brood, We bear our new-born infants to the flood;

There bathed amid the stream our boys we hold, With whiter hardened and imaged to cold.

Gentlemen wishing to be taught to swim should require for particulars at the Y.M.C.A. of Instructor James Crockett.

WORK ON PACIFIC GREAT EASTERN TO START WILLOW RIVER

It is learned from contractors in the city, who have been working on the G. T. P. in British Columbia, that Contractor Carlson, one of those who have contracts on the Peace River extension of the Pacific Great Eastern, has ordered his outfit to proceed to Willow River, which is about 25 miles northeast of Prince George and the nearest point on the G. T. P. to the Peace River country in H. C. This is taken to indicate by many that the G. T. P. will be the real starting point for the line to the north which will make it an important center. The Willow River Lumber camp is the head of which are several big Michigan lumbermen, in building a large sawmill at Willow River, which is expected to be in operation by May 15.
